

MISCELLANEOUS

Best of Gay D.C. 2011: COMMUNITY

October 27, 2011 | Leave a comment

AA text size print email translate

By Joey DiGuglielmo on October 27, 2011

Like Tweet 7 Digg Buzz Share / Save f t g+

Best Home Furnishings Room and Board

"We are honored to be recognized by the gay community," Scott Jussila, leadership associate, says. "We also are very thankful that people have selected Room and Board to help with their furnishings, whether it is their home or office."

Since 1980, Room & Board has grown nationally and has remained committed to providing customers with stylish, quality furniture.

Working directly with artisans allows Room & Board to provide handcrafted, mostly American-made furniture and accessories with a classic-yet-contemporary look — with sofas and much more for indoors and outdoors, distinctly displayed in more than 30,000 square feet of showrooms on four spacious floors.

This Minneapolis-based, privately held retailer lives up to its slogan — "We believe furniture should be beautiful, affordable and long-lasting."

You can rely on the store's design associates for helpful, honest advice as since they're not on commission. The store boasts a rooftop deck with great views of the city. (DP)

Room & Board
1840 14th St., N.W.
202-729-8300
roomandboard.com