

NEUTRAL ACCENTS

Designers rely on basic hues to anchor a space's color scheme and give the eye a place to rest, so load up! You can never have too many.

1. Reed & Barton's faux bamboo "Boka" frame will complement any photo ($45, reedandbarton.com via MyRegistry.com).
2. Evoking vintage "pineapple vases," Dwell Studio's globe vessel can be filled with flowers or go it alone ($47.50, dwellstudio.com).
3. Bambeco's "Eco" picnic basket for two is essentially a portable party. Just add the vin and fromage ($115, bambeco.com).
4. Speaking of cheese: Slice and serve it on a Williams-Sonoma square end-grain counter block sporting your new monogram ($80, williams-sonoma.com).
5. Eileen Fisher's organic-cotton ikat quilt and shams will blend right in with any bedroom décor ($298 and $48 each, garnethill.com).
6. When turned upside-down, J.L. Coquet's "Pythagore" dual-purpose wineglasses say bring on the bubbly ($75 each, neimanmarcus.com).
7. Emblazoned with English landscapes, Juliska's "Country Estate" ceramic tray, mini pitcher, and sugar bowl are truly timeless ($55, $48, and $64, juliska.com).
8. Room & Board's "Bay" cherry-wood stool is a space-saving seating solution. Cute pooch not included ($299, roomandboard.com).
9. So sleek they can go from oven to table, Apilco's "Colorama" roasting dishes make serving platters redundant (from $75, michaelcfina.com).

GOOD TO KNOW

If you're moving into a fixer-upper, register for paint, tools, and even lumber at a home-improvement store like The Home Depot.
