

THREE OF A KIND

PERFECT PERCH

These ergonomically designed stools in natural tones will bring comfort and woody charm to your bar or breakfast counter. — MALCOLM PATTERSON

The Ulrik bar stool is made of solid ash, with a seat constructed from two separate parts and featuring detailed joinery. From $200 (U.S.) through www.thefutureperfect.com.

Crafted of solid maple, the Bay Counter Stool has a classic design and comes in two sizes and five different colour options, making it versatile enough for any space. $299 (U.S.) through www.roomandboard.com.

Designer Craig Bassam drew inspiration for his Tractor Counter Stool from a well-crafted tractor seat he once found at the side of the road in Switzerland. $1,195 (U.S.) at Design Within Reach (www.dwr.com).
